WASHINGTON, April 8.—History was made in Capitol Hill today when the President of the United States discussed the tariff question in person. His message read before Congress and delivered his address in person. His auditors state that it was the best message ever delivered before that body by a President.

The President appeared in the House a few minutes before 1 o'clock and at 1:08 he was leaving. It took him eight minutes to deliver the address. As he took his place on the Speaker's rostrum he presented an appearance of nervousness. His face was more pallid than usual, and the deep lines that have appeared there since he assumed his present duties were more noticeable in the bright light that shone through the glass ceiling of the House.

"I am very glad to have the opportunity to appear before this body and deliver my message in person," he began. "I want the Congressmen and Senators to regard me as a person and not a Department of State. I am a human being and in my dealings with Congress I expect to deal with human beings."

After this occasion, he said, he would feel more free to visit the legislative halls. He then proceeded with his formal message on tariff legislation.

Contented save by a solitary Secret Service man who stood by the speaker, the President proceeded to the Capitol to review the policy of Washington and Adams in personally reading the message to Congress. The President left the White House in the executive automobile immediately following the Cabinet meeting. He went directly to Speaker Clark's room where he was met by the Speaker and Vice President Marshall. In the meantime the two houses had assembled in joint session. Two members from each house were selected to notify the Chief Executive that Congress was in session, the formalities of the occasion having been carried out.

The President had no comment to make on the suggestion in the Senate that his plan was a return to the "speech from the throne" plan. He stood by his declaration yesterday that his was the only dignified procedure.

Practical cuts are made all along the line in the proposed tariff measure. So radical are the changes proposed that even the Democratic Senators were taken by surprise and it is anticipated that a bitter fight will be waged before the measure becomes a law. Whether some of the provisions can be carried remains to be seen.

Schedule K, which covers the textiles, is dealt a body blow. This was one of the most objectionable features of the Payne-Aldrich tariff measure. Wool goes on the free list and other radical reductions are made.

The iron and steel industry is in a heavy loss. Manufacturers say that but for the fact that foreign manufacturers are enjoying an abundance of orders at this time, the new tariff would prove ruinous. As it is they are apprehensive. The iron and steel schedule, as proposed, is as follows: Automobiles and motorcycles, 45 per cent to 40 per cent; Iron and steel, from 25.50 a ton to 15 per cent; Round iron, from $3 and $12 a ton to 8 per cent; Iron and steel forgings, from 20 per cent to 15 per cent; Ball and roller bearings, from 45 to 35 per cent; Sheet steel or iron, now $5 to $18, cut to 20 per cent; Tin plate, now $24 a ton, cut to 20 per cent; Sheet zinc and alloy, now $2.25 to $10 each, changed to 35 per cent; Table and kitchen ware, from 40 to 25 per cent; Steam engines, printing presses, machine tools, from 30 to 15 per cent; Embroidering and lace making machines, now free, made dutiable at 25 per cent.

The schedule carries a blanket clause that articles or wares not especially provided for shall pay 50 per cent if wholly or partly of platinum, gold or silver, and 35 per cent if wholly or in chief value composed of iron, steel, lead, copper, nickel, pewter, zinc, aluminum or other metal.

ROME, April 8.—Pope Pius X is seriously ill today following a sudden attack of Bright's disease. He has a high fever, according to authoritative sources. Dr. Marchisiani, the chief physician at the Vatican, is in constant attendance and no one but the attendants are permitted to enter the sick room.

When Dr. Marchisiani returned to the Pontiff's bedside this morning he said that the sick man's temperature was 100. The Pope's two sisters, Marie and Anna Sarto, spent two hours by his bedside. They were weeping when they left. For the past 20 years the two have lived near their brother, maintaining a close relationship. Since his recent illness they have taken quarters within one block of the Vatican, being daily visitors.

The Pope's illness is purely personal. It is said, and not a Democratic measure. Keegan replied that he had petitions from voters from Fayette County asking him to vote for the bond issue and he refused to be driven into line, even by his party leader, to vote against the wishes of his constituents.

That Brakeman D. A. Cook of a Western Maryland freight train was guilty of incompetence and directly responsible for the wreck near Belvidere on March 29 when Engineer James R. Sheppard and Fireman J. J. Hotchkiss were killed, was the verdict of the Coroner's Jury at the inquest held last night into the accident.

The passenger train, in charge of Sheppard and Hotchkiss, ran into the freight train, resulting in two deaths and the injury of several others.

About 18 employees of the railroad from Cumberland and other points on the line were present. According to the testimony of five witnesses, who were numbered on the crews of either the passenger or freight train, the freight pulled into Belvidere siding in order to let the passenger through.

The caboose and several cars broke from the train before it pulled into the siding and remained on the main track. Engineer Sheppard, not knowing that the train had broken in two, pulled on into the switch and there the train became broken.

On discovering the caboose and cars standing on the main track, the conductor then dispatched Cook to flag the passenger. According to the testimony when he saw the freight train he rushed into the freight before he was far enough down the track to flag it.

The conductor again sent him to flag the passenger but train No. 8 crashed into the freight before he was far enough down the track to flag it.

The jury was composed of William McCormick, W. F. Brooks, Frank Bradford, Samuel King, S. E. M. Pickett and J. H. Witmer.

LAYING SIDEWALKProperty Owners Begin Improvements

Property holders are beginning to comply with the directions of Council to lay sidewalks in front of their residences. Several walks have been started on the South Side and West Side, and on Fairview avenue, S. M. Goodman, A. B. Kirtz and L. L. West are having them laid.

A property owner on Baldwin avenue complained to Chairman W. P. Clark of the Street Committee against laying a 10-foot walk on that thoroughfare. He said that some of the property owners have put down 10-foot walks, and others contemplate having the work done soon.

As it is not compulsory to lay a 10-foot walk on that street, Chairman Clark said that a six or eight foot walk would be satisfactory. Sufficient street width was left, however, for an addition at some future time.

TUESDAY EVENING, APR. 8, 1913.

THE TARIFF AND THE TIMES.
Shortly after President Wilson was elected he indicated that he would be the last man in the country to do anything to disturb the gratifying era of prosperity which enveloped the nation. He regarded the inauguration good times as a justification of his choice, and threatened to men "lighter than Haman" the man or men who halted that prosperity.

It took just a few days if the President had better under the glibbed matter after his own measure. He has taken the tariff revision entirely in his own hands and has ordered the passage of a drastic bill. Industry is protesting desparately. The Democratic manufacturers, whose sense of security was lulled into repose, and who never guarded tariff places jealously, are confronted with the spectacle of a tariff stabbed in their own political household. Other manufacturers who had failed to appreciate Republican protection, and who had been victims of political unrest, are now extremely restless themselves. They see their chickens coming home to roost.

The Courier, who has been the manufacturing world, both before and after the election, of this possibility, but the tide of prosperity was rolling so full and fair that prophetic of disaster were laughed at as crankery. The preacher of trouble has a thunderslack. We do not fancy the job. We hope that the Democratic administration may see its way better, and that the dangers which now beset American industry through a too radical disturbance of the tariff may be removed.

The Protective tariff has much to do with preserving American property. The duration and volume of the latter will depend largely upon the extent of the Democratic downward revision.

LIQUOR REGULATION.
Judge Unbeh lectured the applicants for liquor licenses on the laxity of their conduct during the recent years and the necessity of coming back to the law and the rules of the court.

Violations of the rules have been numerous and noticeable, and the admonition of the court was timely and proper. Standards have degenerated. Hotels need to be cleaned up and kept up. The warnings of the bench will doubtless cause a hotel split that will be gratifying to the traveling public.

The court also warns the licensees against excessive orders and late-night drinking days. The judge wants bar policemen to attend to their duty of preserving order, and he suggests to brewers and distillers that they send sober men to maintain order of the foreign feasts. Retailers who sell to minors and visibly intoxicated persons do so at their peril, and wholesalers supply associates at their risk.

Distillers and brewers are invited to look up the law governing employment of agents or solicitors and the suggestion is made that counties should avoid incurring losses to the manufacturing interests.

Such a combination might be advised in restraint of trade, but the liquor traffic is a thing of the past, and restriction officially and otherwise, and one more or less cannot make much difference.

THE VEST POCKET BALLOT.
The wandering of ballot reform are leading back to the Vest Pocket ballot.

The object of most ballot reform seems to be to break up political parties and dissolve political organizations, yet political parties and organizations are absolutely essential to the proper and forceful expression of the people's wishes on important questions of government.

When we cease to have parties there is danger that we will have definite principles, and the whole system of government, which it has been the struggle of a century to keep out of the hands of politicians, will become the property of the mob without leadership, without mind, without direction, without intelligent purpose.

Beware of the state-manship that is ever ready to tear down the old before it has planned the new.

WILSONIAN DIGNITY.
President Wilson says it is dignified to read his message to the Congress instead of permitting it to be mumbled by a clerk.

There will be a difference of opinion on this point; but there will be no dispute about the imprudence of the President's conduct if he seeks by his presence in the halls of Congress to influence legislation. It is very clear that such conduct on his part will be generally looked upon as undignified, unbecoming and improper.

The President should not go back to the White House and content himself with writing messages and consulting with the Honorable W. Bryan as to the style of his composition and the propriety of his conclusions.

The Johnstown Tribune, published by the Honorable Anderson H. Walters, Bull Moose Congressman-at-Large from Pennsylvania, reads William Barnes of New York out of the Republican party. It is rather presumptuous in a Bull Moose organ to meddle with the Republican party after having advertised its own departure therefrom. Barnes has been banished from Albany by a Democratic Governor and read out of the party by a Bull Moose Congressman, but he seems to be redoubtable about it, and wholly immovable.

The baseball is rolling nearer.

The Conneltsville region people don't care how often Dunbar furnace is sold if it is only started up. They are not interested so much in the ownership as they are in operation.

The Progressive administrations of California and Wisconsin report empty treasuries. Yet here is old boss-oiden Pennsylvania, without any public debt, figuring how to spend millions of dollars of its income during the coming two years. The Reform movement make a lot of noise, but they seem to have a lot to learn about practical government.

The Armageddonites may be mighty warriors, but they are poor financiers.

The standardization of telephone rates will increase some of the Johnstown rates as some of those in Conneltsville, though there is nothing in the law compelling the companies to raise a low rate.

The festive burglar still is burgling.

The crusade against the Red Light has actually begun.

On top of the high price of existence comes the report that a wholesale grocery company has gone into the hands of a receiver. It must have been an open switch.

The False Statement bill is a law and people now impose a newspaper at their imminent peril.

William Flinn is reported to have his political aspirations at work in Pittsburgh feeling the public pulse and preparing the public mind to the shock of his candidacy for Mayor. The Mayorality would be a position after the heart of the ex-chief. He would have to deal only with a very small Council. The present city government is a rather close corporation. That's the kind of city government William once ran with great success, not to mention liberal profit.

Political revolutions pile upon each other. It is to be hoped that they will not end in a general revolution.

The Greatest Common Adviser of Democratic members has consented to lecture the naughty Democratic legislators at Harrisburg who refuse to march strictly according to the music of the Triumvirate band.

VISITOR AT DAWSON.
Minister Who First Preached in This Section Returns Once More.

Rev. W. W. Hunsicker will speak at the Dawson Methodist Episcopal Church on Wednesday evening, being a guest at Mrs. Sarah H. Cochran's home, Linden Hall, for a day or so.

The visiting minister was located at Dunbar 10 or 12 years ago, the church there being his first charge. He is remembered by many Methodists of this section. For the past several years he has been located in New Jersey and has now given up a splendid charge to accept a much smaller church in Portland, Oregon. On his way west he is stopping in this section to renew old acquaintances.

A Story of the Moment

By WALT MASON
The Famous Prose Poet

The Cost of Living

"If I thought you'd ever pay for it," wife, he went to a wife don over a very stable, where they had a game of chance, and lost every cent. Just as he was about to leave the police raided the place, and, as he made some resistance, an officer clubbed him over the head, and he was carried to the police station in a wheelbarrow. When I saw him in the police court next morning, with his head in a winding sheet, and heard the judge assess him a big fine, I regretted my reckless generosity, and made up my mind never again to pay a bill until I was thoroughly satisfied that the creditor would put the money to some good use.

"As for your cheese, I don't want any of it. It represents another scheme to rob the plain people. The manufacturer of that cheese ought to be in jail, and they wrap up about two ounces of cheese in greased paper and unfold it to pay their bills. When a grocer has charges ten cents for the package. Anybody buying groceries in fancy packages is buying groceries in fancy packages. When I was young a man could take ten cents to a grocery and buy enough cheese to feed a family reunion. Twenty-five cents would buy more groceries than a man could carry home in a bushel. Things were sold in bulk in those days, and a man bought what he wanted and paid for it."

"Blamed if I don't think of that contract that I made with you," muttered the grocer. "Oh, of course, you must indulge in that. You use the money I am talking about. I'll pay you what I owe, but not only. Just the same, it is this thing because you're buying groceries in fancy packages. It is going to ruin the republic. The people of this generation are so fatuously extravagant they never will take into account—"

"Speaking of accounts," interrupted the grocer, "it is six months since you sold anything on your account."

The Dangers of Thoughtless Buying.

The dangers to you of thoughtless buying are many. "A man loses his time that comes early to a bad bargain," runs an old German proverb.

You lose more than your time, for heedless purchasing means wasted money, effort, and thought. Poor quality is high at any price.

"How can I avoid it?" you say. "I want the best my money will command, but I cannot know all qualities." Surely you cannot know everything about articles you buy, but you can trust safely to the honesty of merchants of known worth.

Buy the best your money will command in stores where you can rely on those selling the goods with the help of THE COURIER. Read daily the advertisements of merchants advertising in THE COURIER and profit by what you read.

COUNCIL AND SCHOOL BOARD DISAGREE ON PAYING FOR GRADE

Scottsdale Solons Interpret Letter From Secretary as a Reneging.

CLAIM BOARD ASKED FOR IT

Automobile Stand Will Be Made at the Station. R. DeWitt Reappointed on Health Board; Nuisance to Be Abated; Other Notes of News.

Special to The Courier. SCOTSDALE, April 7.—The Town Council met in its regular monthly session last night with the following members present: William Butler, Arthur E. Collins, M. L. Hanes, W. W. Hanes, C. M. Jarrett, H. C. Martin, H. J. Springer, W. T. Massey and President W. L. Schaffer. Several important matters came up among them the itemization from the Secretary of the School Board that they feel it optional on their part whether they pay for the grading about the Chestnut street buildings which was done by the borough on the request of the board; the interest of the Board of Health in abating a nuisance in the form of a filthy lake between Broadway and the Feinmeyer tracks and Church street and the street car viaduct; the opening of a cab stand at the P. R. R. station and the grading of sidewalks where citizens wish to pave.

The communication which raised the ire of the Councilmen was as follows: "I have a notice from your attorney threatening to file a lien on the school property if assessment for grading is not paid before April 10. I think it has been the intention of the Board of Education to pay this as well as the assessment for paving. This, however, is optional with the board and an attempt to force it might develop formidable reaction. I suggest therefore that you call your attorney's attention to Section 821 of the new School Code for careful reading before he proceeds with the lien." The letter was signed by O. L. Hres, Secretary of the Board of Education.

Borough Attorney F. R. Folk said that when the Board of Education petitioned for the having the waterway any such benefits of the code, and he added he would like to file the board to a long line of decisions wherein School Boards under like circumstances. He concluded that the Board certainly waived any such advantage of law when they asked that such improvements be made.

The petition for the paving were read and showed that the School Board appeared among the petitioners. On the grading it was admitted that the board had not presented a petition, but Mr. Collins and others spoke of several Councilmen and members of the board meeting together on the grading and that the board asked verbally that the grading be done for them.

Mr. Hanes moved that the Secretary write the Secretary of the board and remind him that the grading had been done entirely at the solicitation of the School Board and that under these circumstances the Board should meet their share of the assessments as made. The motion was seconded by Mr. Hanes and passed unanimously.

School Board is evidently having fun with Council. Secretary Hres stated at noon today that the order for the grading had been made out several weeks ago and last night was approved by the board. It will be turned over to the borough at once.

Azrael H. D. Hoover of the Pennsylvania railroad appeared and mentioned as a part of the many improvements being made about the Scottsdale station, that he had suggested to the Burgess and members of Council that a drive way around the flower bed in the plant just north of the station building be made so that automobiles could enter and stand while waiting for trains and thus remove the present congestion on Pittsburg street. He said that many automobiles now come into the paved station yard and sometimes get mixed up with wagons that stand at the platform, as well as with wagons hauling out of the freight yard, and also stand in front of the field building along Pittsburg street. With the new plan much of this would be removed. He said that the improvements would be made at the cost of the railroad and the thing desired was permission to make an apron crossing over the pavement on Broadway in enter the yard. His speech resulted in a unanimous motion that the improvement be made.

Dr. N. E. Hiesley, Secretary of the Board of Health, spoke of the lake of filthy water standing in the Emerson Land Company holdings, where soil and rubbish has been dumped just below the car bridge. He said that the board desired greatly that the dangerous nuisance be removed and that he had consulted with Porter Allen, the railroad supervisor at Uniontown, and that the P. R. R. supervisor said that the railroad would lay a sewer under their right of way and carry the water directly into the creek in the borough would take care of the water on either side of the tracks. The easy solution of the matter, which, with the raising of Church street and the closing up the natural water course, has grown to serious proportions, was acted upon and the swamp will thus be drained at small expense. Otherwise in the future the sewer would have to carry the water to Anderson run.

President Schaffer appointed E. P. DeWitt a member of the Board of Health, and Council ratified the appointment. Mr. DeWitt has been a valuable member of the board for the past five years.

The Street Committee was instructed to grant the property owners on the West Side of Grant street and Walnut avenue the same as on the East Side for grading, the borough paying one-third of the cost.

FINCHES FILED.

The funeral services for Mrs. Harriet Lint, wife of Peter Lint, took place at the Lint home near Cunningham's bridge, west of Scottsdale, were largely attended. The minister in charge was Rev. J. J. Funk, pastor of the Mt. Nido and Owendale United Brethren Churches. The deceased was a daughter of the late Uriah and Elizabeth Ellenberger, well known people of Lower Tyrone township, where the decedent was born November 30, 1835. She married Peter Lint on May 17, 1852, and they began housekeeping near Duquesne, afterward coming to one of the Keister farms, across Jacobs creek from the Methodist Episcopal Church of that name, and later to the farm where she died. She leaves a husband and eight out of 12 children born the pair still living. They are Ester Lint of Perryopolis, Jesse Lint and Alexander Lint of near Cunningham bridge, and Dempsey Lint at home, and these daughters, also at home: Joann, Elizabeth, Alice and Ada. The decedent was a member of the Methodist Protestant Church at Broad Ford, and although an invalid for 15 months preceding her death, maintained a Christian fortitude and cheerfulness. The burial was in the Cochran cemetery.

DO IT THE EASY WAY

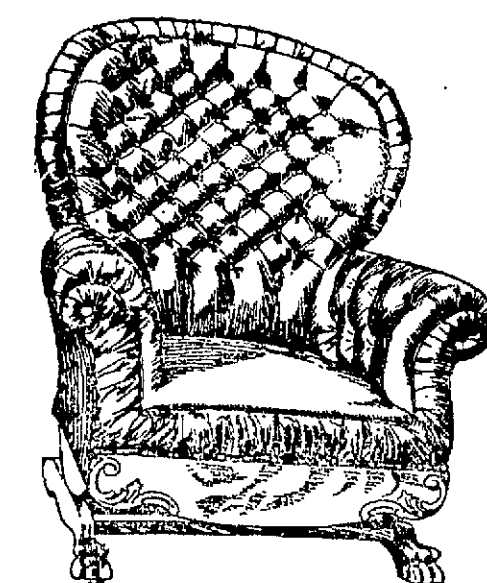

It is much easier for the young man in ordinary circumstances to pay for a home after he is married and settled down than it is for him to save the money and buy a home while he is single.

As a single man it's very hard to save, every pleasure he indulges in is expensive. As a married man his greatest pleasure is his home.

Our Liberal and Dignified Credit Plan Makes it easy for all who wish to do so to start housekeeping now and pay for their homes while they enjoy it out of the difference in the cost of living.

CASCARETS CLEANSE LIVER AND BOWELS

No Headache, Bad Taste, Sour Stomach or Coated Tongue by Morning.

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and free than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction. Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the contaminated waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box of your druggist will keep your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.—Advertisement.

MOTHERS! HERE'S SOMETHING NEW FOR CROUP AND COLD TROUBLES

An External Treatment That Does Away With Internal Medicines, Chest Protectors, Etc.—You Can Let the Children Run Out Doors in All Weathers and Get Their Needed Fresh Air and Exercise.

Every mother is the doctor when it comes to treating the annoying little cold troubles that all children are heir to. The only trouble is to know what really is the best thing to do.

Some mothers keep the children in doors and make them wear chest protectors and heavy flannels. This method deprives the children of the fresh air and exercise they need and the heavy clothing keeps the pores of the skin open and really makes them catch cold more easily.

A few mothers neglect these troubles entirely and the often leads, in after life, to chronic catarrh, weakened lungs, etc.

Most mothers keep on hand a formidable array of bottles and are usually dosing one or more of the children. This method is probably worse than the others as most cough medicines contain alcohol and some form of opium and are very injurious to the delicate stomachs of the little folks.

After all, colds are simply inflammations of the lining of the air passages just like sunburn and mosquito bites are inflammation of the skin. We don't dose the stomach to cure sunburn, but we have had to dose the stomach for colds because there has been no way of applying a direct application to the air passages except in the form of vapors. And while the old vapor lamps save off the needed vapors, they required the room to be kept closed and hence kept out the all important fresh air.

Pine tar from the south, menthol from Japan, camphor from the Indo of Persia, and the oils of Thymol, eucalyptus, eucalyptus, and juniper, are recognized as the best remedies for cold troubles. Druggists the world over have been seeking some cheap, convenient, method of vaporizing these products without having to use the cumbersome vapor lamps.

A druggist in North Carolina discovered how to combine these products in a salve by a special process so that they were vaporized by the heat of the body when applied over the throat and chest. This patented process is the only secret about this new treatment which is known as the Vicks Vapo-Rub.

Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a little Vicks' use occasionally will keep the children free from cold troubles, no matter how much they are exposed. Croup really is relieved in 15 minutes. For all inflammations of the air passages such as catarrh, this new treatment will be found remarkably successful. Simply apply Vicks well over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

All the leading drug stores in Connellsville are now agencies for the sale of this preparation and are giving with each sale a refund slip that is good for your money back if Vicks is not found to be far better than internal medicines.

Vicks comes in three sizes—25c, 50c and $1. The price is never cut.

Colonel TODHUNTER of Missouri

By RIPLEY D. SAUNDERS

Copyright, 1911, by the Dicks-Meritt Company

But Colonel Strickland shook his head. "There's been a backset somewhere along the line," announced Colonel Todhunter stubbornly. "And you've got to tell me what it is. I'm settin' there lookin' like a poor man at a cash sale. Bill Strickland, dumb, 'cause money's all that talks."

At this Colonel Strickland laughed heartily. "That's where you hit the nail on the head," he said. "Money, the mean and dirty thing that can whip the best man in the world—that's the trouble, Thure."

"It's generally the other man's money that looks dirty, Bill," Colonel Todhunter commented, chuckling. "I got to acknowledge the corn myself. I never had a dollar of my own that didn't look mischievous and good to me. But what's this particular money trouble?"

"Well, if you will have it, Thure, it's this," replied Colonel Strickland. "I'm up a tree in the matter of campaign expenses. Old Governor Leslie was sure he could raise a Strickland campaign fund by asking the right men and telling them what he proposed to do with it. They knowing that Steve Yancey ain't fit to be governor of Missouri. But so far he's met with mighty poor success. He told me all about it in St. Louis yesterday. I ain't got a dollar in the world, and we're established headquarters in St. Louis and Kansas City that's got to be kept up. How we're going to do it is what I can't figure out."

The two old friends faced each other silently.

"That certainly is a serious situation, Bill," spoke Colonel Todhunter at last. "It's no mighty serious, Thure," returned the other, "that I can't see my way out of it."

But at this Colonel Todhunter snorted. "That's where you're wrong, Bill Strickland," he exclaimed. "I've been in tighter places in any body on earth, 'ceptin' the fellow who come out of a spree with his copers in London, but I'll be jim swined if I ever got into one I couldn't get out of. And we ain't in that kind of a one now. How much money do you need?"

Colonel Strickland shook his head. "There's no good you and me figuring along that line, old fellow. We need at least $30,000, and while it's pretty certain old Leslie will raise that amount eventually that doesn't cut any ice now. We need the money right here at the start."

"And you can't raise it?" asked Colonel Todhunter.

"No, I can't," answered Colonel Strickland. "And I can't see what a man deserves for thinking he knows how to save the country when he don't even know how to take care of himself."

"That ain't so, Bill," answered Colonel Todhunter steadily. "And anybody that thinks they can keep you from bein' governor of Missouri simply because you're a poor man has got an other thing comin', sub. You draw your personal note for $30,000 in my favor. I'll endorse it right here and if I don't get that money it's because the Missouri National bank don't know a good thing when it sees it."

"What do you mean, Todhunter?" asked Colonel Strickland, instant protest in his eyes.

"I mean this, Bill Strickland," replied Colonel Todhunter. "In the first place, old Governor Leslie is dead sure to raise that campaign fund. In the second place, all heaven and hell hates a quitter, and you ain't a goner to be one. In the third place, the Todhunter farm is as pretty a piece of collateral for a $30,000 loan as old Billy himself would give the heart to ask."

"That's exactly what I thought you were going to say," quietly commented Colonel Strickland. "But it don't go for a minute. I ain't going to tie you up on this proposition."

"It ain't nobody's goner to tie me up," said Colonel Todhunter. "And I ain't goner to tie myself up, either. I'm going to tie the other fellow up. I'll tie up them there tricksters in St. Louis that's queerin' old Governor Leslie's game. They're the ones that's puttin' a frost on the Strickland campaign fund. If they can do that successfully they've got you whipped right here and now. But I'm a-goin' to fool 'em."

"No, Thure, I don't do it," protested Colonel Strickland. "Putting up a good fight is one thing, but ruining your friends is something entirely different. I haven't fallen that low yet."

"You haven't fallen anywhere," said Colonel Todhunter. "But you've got my fightin' blood up, and by the Lord Hallelujah, if you ain't a-goin' to call to help a friend that needs help," replied Colonel Todhunter. "I ain't got no call to keep on livin'. You set down there and make out that note."

Reluctantly Colonel Strickland obeyed. But he smiled cynically as he passed the paper to Colonel Todhunter.

"You set down there," he said, "and old Eph Tucker is president of the Missouri National bank. Is he likely to finance our campaign against Steve Yancey?

Colonel Todhunter laughed. "I ain't forgettin' nothin'," he responded. "And don't you forget that old Eph Tucker was a note shiner long before he was a politician, and he's got note shavin' in his blood bigger'n a mule. He couldn't no more let a good piece of paper get away from his bank than he could fly, and he's got it here to be mighty scarce before old Eph Tucker does any flyin'."

Nevertheless when Colonel Todhunter presented the Strickland note endorsed by him and with his unencumbered farm as collateral, for discount he found old Eph Tucker solicitously inquisitive.

"What's it all about, Colonel Todhunter?" the banker asked. "You and Bill Strickland going in together on some business deal? What's the consideration for the note?"

Colonel Todhunter looked old Tucker square in the eyes. "Eph," he replied, "I'm goin' to play my cards face up on the table. Bill Strickland needs money to pay his campaign expenses. That's why I'm endorsin' his note and askin' this bank to discount it."

Old Tucker's little eyes narrowed. "And you're gettin' no good out of it yourself?" he asked, studying Colonel Todhunter curiously. "You're lendin' "

"We'll discount the note. It's your funeral, not ours."

Your credit and riskin' your farm just to help Bill Strickland along in politics?"

"That's what I'm doin', Eph," replied Colonel Todhunter.

"Then said the banker, 'you're a bigger fool than I took you for. Bill Strickland ain't good for $100 with this bank.'"

"He's good for any amount with me, Eph," returned Colonel Todhunter, a sudden menace in his tone. "But that ain't the question. Is this note good as it stands now?"

"Bill Strickland don't stand no more show for the combination than a rabbit," spoke old Tucker. "He'll never get his hands on the governor's salary, if that's what you're countin' on, Colonel Todhunter."

"Eph," said Colonel Todhunter, "I'll look out for that end of the business. All I want you to do is to pass on this here note."

"Colonel Todhunter," replied the banker, "the indorsement and the collateral make this note good and it's a banker's business to buy good paper. We'll discount the note. It's your funeral, not ours."

"That finishes the business then," said Colonel Todhunter. "I ain't worryin' about my funeral. But if you're accountin' on either Bill Strickland or me furnishin' the corpse, Eph, you're goin' to see one of the liveliest corpses you ever seen in all your born days, sub."

The old banker made no reply. Colonel Todhunter was chuckling when he reported to Colonel Strickland. "It's all right, Bill, and you can get back to St. Louis right away," he

THE SOISSON.

"THREE TWINES" TONIGHT

Very few people know how the famous Yama Yama song received its name and how Mr. Gus Solko conceived the idea for the funny "Three Twines" tonight.

The grand old New England idyll returns to the Soisson Theatre Monday and Tuesday, April 11 with all the well known favorites in the cast, the famous musical features and a new production under the personal direction of Frank Thompson.

The Soisson, as presented by Ronald and Clifford, is opening with as much success as the play had in its debut last season. It will be seen at the Soisson Theatre Monday and Tuesday, April 12 with a cast including Harry Nelson, Virginia Lewis, Mabel Thorne, F. J. Bacon, George J. Clark, Ritchie, Soval, Harry Walker and others. The theme of the play concerns a man and a woman happily married. They are surrounded with every luxury of wealth and happiness. The husband is an unbeliever in native love and without faith of any kind. There is a jarring note in the household harmony. No one notices it until a friend of the husband comes to him and tells him of the trouble. The husband and wife are brought down to the depths of suffering agony. It is the play who restores both into the sunlight of hope and love.

There are some things we cannot forget. For instance, there is the smile of April, the violet in springtime, the early potato and the corn (Thompson). The Old Homestead. The reason we cannot escape them is because nature is too good to us. Nature has a kindly as well as a wise thought. She gives us what we need just when we need it and she knows our needs better than we do. The old homestead has been as personal as a springtime for 27 years. It is useless to talk about the merits of the famous old masterpiece for two generations of play goers have laughed with dear old Uncle Tom and have had their hearts touched by this beautiful picture of rural life, the most beautiful and the cleanest that has ever been seen on any stage.

MOST SICKNESS COMES FROM WEAK, INACTIVE KIDNEYS

Recent Reports Show Hundreds Suffer With Kidney Troubles and Don't Know It.

There are scores of nervous, tired, run-down people throughout the city, suffering with pains in the back and sides, dizzy spells, weakness of the bladder, frequently causing annoyance at night who fail to realize the seriousness of their troubles until such conditions as chronic rheumatism, bladder troubles, dropsy, diabetes or even Bright's disease result. All this is due to weak, inactive kidneys. The kidneys are the filters of the blood, and no one can be well and healthy unless the kidneys work properly. It is even more important than that the bowels move regularly. If you suffer with such symptoms, don't neglect yourself another day and run the risk of serious complications. Secure an original package of the new discovery, Croxone, which costs but a trifle, and commence its use at once. When you have taken a few doses, you will be surprised how differently you will feel. Croxone cures the worst cases of kidney, bladder trouble, and rheumatism, because it removes the causes, it cleans out the kidneys, and makes them filter out all the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, that lodge in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the bladder, and quickly relieves you of all your misery. You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are or how long you have suffered, it is so prepared that it is practically impossible to make it into the human system without results. You can secure an original package of Croxone from any first class druggist. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if it fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it. Advertisement.

BETTER THAN MEDICINE

Breathe Hyomel and Be Rid of Catarrh—Or Stopper-Up Head.

Nature has a remedy for catarrh and troubles of the breathing organs, a treatment that is far better than doing the stomach with medicine.

It is the healing "oil" and balsams of Hyomel which mediates the air you breathe, reaching the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing the catarrhal germs, and restoring health to the mucous membrane.

In using Hyomel you are treating your catarrhal troubles with the natural remedy, for it gives a curative air bath to the air passages. It has a powerful healing and antiseptic effect similar to the air in the mountains where the forests give off the fragrant and healing balsams.

Hyomel has benefited so many sufferers of the worst cases of catarrh, with offensive breath, running of nose, frequent sneezing, drooping in the throat and spasmodic coughing that it is sold under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. If the treatment does not help you, there will not be a penny's expense, while if it cures the cost is nominal.

A complete Hyomel outfit sells for only $1.00. Extra bottles of liquid if later needed 50 cents.

Stylish Pumps and Oxfords

A stock that invites immediate selection and prices that are warranted lowest for good footwear.

This four-button oxford in patent and dull leathers, $3.50.

This button boot in white canvas and nubuck; dull, patent, velvet, suede, cravat and satin, $3.00, $3.50 and $4.00 pair.

The smart low shoes that will be highest in favor this season are— for women—pumps, all leather in all leathers; button oxfords in patent and dull leathers; and two strap pumps. 16-button boots in white canvas and nubuck, and patent leather for dress.

Wright-Metzler's Shoe Store has long been patronized by critical people who demand footwear in the height of Fashion, and by economical folk who want good, solid-leather, shapely, long-wearing and comfortable shoes. Our stock this season is in grand shape to supply all demands made by the critical and the economical by reason of enlarged stocks and more varied assortments. In a word, it's a store of the best footwear for women, men and children at unusually low prices.

Comparison will forcefully prove that Wright-Metzler shoes are better in point of leather and shoemaking, and lower in price by 50c to $1.00 a pair than can be gotten at any other store. This assertion is not made carelessly, nor to fill up newspaper space, nor without regard to truthfulness, but in all earnestness, and it can be proven by any one who make comparisons about town.

Women's Low Shoes are $2.00 to $4.00. Men's Low Shoes are $3.50 to $5.00

Men's Oxfords are button or lace in tan and black leathers. Flat, narrow shapes are newest and the fashionable toe is dubbed "The Tramp." These shoes are solid leather and low priced.

Women's low shoes are slender and have Cuban and Spanish heels—the last named being lower than the former. The pumps are decorated with tailored bows and buckles.

The Prettiest Frocks

For Tiny Girls Girls 3 to 6 Years Girls 6 to 14 Years

That We've Seen In ANY Store

Not far from here is a firm that has made children's dresses only for their own retail shops. These little frocks have been so carefully and beautifully made that every mother who has seen them has wanted them for her girls.

Love seemed to go into their designing—as love has to go in to everything that is supremely well done. Love seemed to guide the stitches, work the perfect buttonholes, choose the buttons—in fact, knowledge of and love for little children seemed to inspire those dresses from beginning to end.

We've been after those people a long time to let us put some of their prettiest dresses on sale here:

We've Just Succeeded!

So when you want the best of all everyday and "Sunday" frocks for your little girl come to the second floor and ask us for the little garments made by people that love children and made a study of their clothes.

All the materials are very fine, the colors are perfect, the designs simple and individual, buttons of the best and the work beautifully done. They are, in fact, such dresses as you would make at home, but so little priced it would be foolish to do so.

At 6 months to a year sizes are long and short dresses of longcloth and other soft, fine fabrics cunningly trimmed with delicate embroideries and laces, pin tucks and ribbons, 50c upward.

Two to six year sizes are long waist, Norfolk and straight pleated affairs of dimity, lawn, voile, pique, batiste in white; zephyr, chambray and barred madras in colors. They are decorated with pretty laces, ribbon bows and rosettes, hand embroidery, tucks, heading, finishing braids and bias bands. Some of the frocks have bloomers. In some sheer white waists are combined with colored skirts, 50c to $5.00.

Six to fourteen year sizes are lovely indeed. About the same materials are used as for the smaller sizes, but the trimmings, scallops and other effects are daintily girlish. These are priced at $1.00 to $5.00.

Sun Hats of gingham or pique, white or colored—and washable—are 50c to $3.00 each.
